We've managed to keep him quiet all day, but I don't think his legs can take a second night. He won't stay awake, and if he could walk, he wouldn't walk. So, I get to watch him try to sleep, for hours at a time. And I get to watch him try to get comfortable. At least today he wasn't vomiting (he had the last 4-5 days, but it didn't last). He had a little bit of a fever last night, too. So, I've said it before, and I'll say it again: I really wish I had more baby-wearing experience. What do people normally do with babies who can't keep awake, who can't walk, who keep vomiting, who can't keep their legs upright? I don't really have anything

System Requirements For IConnectTube Video Downloader:

Recommendation: The module will run in all single player missions on medium difficulty settings, but this is purely a guideline for an optimal experience. If your computer can't handle the game on high settings, you'll want to reduce the graphics settings (especially the eye modes) to low or turn down antialiasing. If you're encountering some graphical issues, we highly recommend that you turn off eye hacks. Although it's not necessarily the cause of the bug, it can make it more difficult to diagnose.
