Epigenesis is a sci-fi multiplayer ball-sports FPS game. The original concept for the game first emerged through the Make Something Unreal contest. This is actually how I started my game design career back then. I was just fascinated by the concepts behind anti-gravity and the idea of a shooting game set in an infinite open-air environment. I knew it would be a challenging game to make, but I wanted to create a really fun and friendly game to play with friends. And so, the idea for Epigenesis was born. We set out to create a ball game unlike anything seen before. Epigenesis is a fast-paced, non-lethal multiplayer ball sport game set in a unique open-world environment in the year 2551. We believe in the power of human teamwork, and want players to work together to build the best node system possible. The game is designed to be easy to pick up and play, but the team oriented gameplay lends itself to become a fan-favorite title. I hope you will be as excited about the game as we are. We have been working on the game for the past year and we have some really good news to share with you today. Our first major update is now live! Featuring: - New World Map: We are proud to announce that we will be introducing a brand new futuristic world into the game, set on a distant planet, inside a hollowed out asteroid. - New Plants: Every plant has been optimized to excel in their role. - New Sites: In a world with multiple available buildings, players can find and easily unlock a large number of different bases and sites for players to run/sprint towards and build. - New Dressings: After considerable community feedback, we have made an effort to evolve the aesthetic of the game to offer new design possibilities. - New Items: The update includes some brand new items such as: - New Infusion, Shockwave and Dash item pickups - New Grapple and Crouch abilities - New Hat We hope you enjoy the new update as much as we do! Let us know what you think by joining the discussion on our website! Review: "Epigenesis is an amazingly designed and executed ballgame. It takes the time to redefine what a game should be." - GameJolt "There is a lot of depth to this game, just because it has c9d1549cdd

How do you teach people how to play? That's the tough part of making music or learning a musical instrument. You could try and teach them how to read sheet music, but that's about as far as it goes. Instead, we are going to use a more visual method. In this course, we'll show you how to teach people to play songs. We'll start with the theory and basics of playing chords. Then we'll build on that. You'll learn how to teach people how to play songs that they already know how to play. At the end, we'll have you teaching this course to people. So it'll be kind of fun, but also quite challenging. This course is a complete game changer for anyone making games with music or for anyone that wants to teach people to play music. If you want to teach people to play music and you also want to work with music data, then this course is for you. Look forward to seeing you inside. Cheaters! Some rumors have been making the rounds about a group of ghost hunters being caught illegally using various hidden cameras and recording gear to trick unsuspecting New Yorkers, apparently using a special secret technique involving a bottle of alcohol. From the WSJ: Spurred by increasing calls from homeowners with paranormal encounters, a group of ghost-hunting enthusiasts has adopted a new method to detect vermin… […] The N.Y.P.D.'s Internal Affairs Bureau is investigating whether Mr. Brown, 30, and Mr. Kline, 40, invaded private property for the purpose of recording an "illegal videography," said the person who requested anonymity because the probe is ongoing. After Mr. Brown visited what is said to be the same haunted house twice last week, the owners complained to police, who confiscated the equipment and issued the tickets. "It's unusual for anybody to do this in New York City because there are very strict laws and very strict parks," said Jay R. Ginsberg, deputy commissioner of the parks department. "If you're in somebody's room or in someone's house, all you're doing is trespassing, you have no right to be there." That is very interesting indeed – and disturbing! Rather than claim responsibility, however, one of the "spooks" involved in the alleged crime says that there were a lot of other paranormal investigators there, and that they are all responsible. But spooks doesn't seem like a very likely explanation for something like this – unless, of course, many of the other ghost hunters supposedly there were likewise guilty of a crime, and they are just willing to take the blame. As for the drinking part, it seems to be a fairly common method of "tricking" ghost hunters out of recording paranormal phenomena, though I'm not sure how one exactly does it. I think the idea is to set up cameras, then give good spooks a bottle of alcohol to pretend they are going to open it, and then open the bottle when no one is there. Unfortunately, I don't know what effect this would have on the recorded video, so it would be very difficult to reconstruct if you didn't know what would have happened anyway. And even if the spooks weren't responsible for the scam, I'm

This game is an updated version of Pixel Storm. This game offers a play in arcade atmosphere where there are continuous wave like enemies to destroy. The game offers different powerups and weapons so that you will feel as if you were in an actual crash. There are three modes. • STORY • ARCADE • SNUGGLER The story mode, offers 7 Worlds, an average 3 waves per level, a boss at the end of each level, and an ending sequence that is really cool. • ARCADE • With this mode you can compete with other players. (Bots are included) • SNUGGLER • This mode is a single player mode. With highscore ranking and personal rankings, you can test your skills to see how great you are. • The Arcade and Snuggler modes are cross platform. (You can play on your PC and your Android Tablet and you can see how your score compares.) • The arcade mode on the Android Tablet is the same as the arcade mode on the PC. With the arcade mode on the tablet you will have 8 players competing with you. • I created this game after Pixel Storm so I wanted to make an enemy that isn't seen in any other Android games. • There are different ships in different themes. (There's the Pink thingy that has a tail and is pink.) • This game has 30 types of guns. (Jet lance, snake gun, laser, whip, laser beam, gattlinggun, machine gun, shotgun, tazer gun, canon, laserbow, a staff which shoots neon objects, etc. You can also use the suns as an explosive weapon.) • There are 10 types of ships which you can shoot down. (You can also have a neon cannon which you will find floating in space.) • You can hit the enemy from a distance with a neon beam. • There are epic boss battles that you can try to defeat if you have completed the game with four stars or higher. • There are a lot of pickups. (Ships, powerups, enemy's, weapon's, etc.) • There are different shields. (You can choose a shield color that helps you recover health.) • You can upgrade weapons. (You get to choose the number of shots you can fire from the weapon.) • The game
