In my program I want to make a form for user to make changes to text. I thought that it would be best to use one Form instead of multiple but when I do that new Form is extremely slow as compared to the original one. Why is this so? How can I speed it up? I'm using VS2010 in Windows 7. A: 1)Did you dispose your new form on Closing? Or did you not close it? 2)Is this the same form you are using everywhere else? OR is it a different form? 3)Is this a new project or an old one?
