Learn more about Escape Room VR: an engaging VR lesson that uses a real-world lesson to train real-world skill sets. Play as a team and try to escape the room within the time limit, using what you've learned to make real-world calculations and reactions. No prior chemistry knowledge is required for this VR lesson. An Escape Room is an interactive puzzle game in which you are given some sort of obstacle (Escape Room has a locked door, and everything must be used to escape). How to Play: Use the controllers to interact with the VR environment. Move around the room and explore the posters and whiteboards left behind for clues. Place your molecules at the balancing table. Turn the Bunsen burner to heat up different liquids. Solve the puzzle by doing real-world calculations. See if you are able to solve the puzzle and escape from the room. Real-world Lesson: OXIDATION OR REDUCTION? Use oxygen to oxidize hydrogen, and turn it into water. USE CALCULATION TO SAVE OXYGEN Use - or add - oxygen to neutralize hydrogen to make it - or unmake it - into water. OXIDIZE ALUMINIUM TO MAKE IT INTO OXYGEN Use oxygen to oxidize aluminium to make it into aluminium oxide. LESSON PLAN: OXYGEN EXTRACTION Use the Bunsen burner to heat up different liquids. The liquid is heated to a temperature where it starts boiling. When the boiling stops, the liquid forms bubbles. Bubble size can be used to measure how much oxygen has been removed from the liquid. VAPORIZATION Vaporize the liquid to form bubbles and measure the size of the bubbles. Each bubble gives a -new- molecule. COMBUSTION AND OXYGEN Combust a liquid containing oxygen to see what kinds of molecules form. COMBUSTION: Use a Bunsen burner to heat up different liquids. Each liquid produces a specific kind of molecule. VAPORIZATION: Vaporize the liquid to see what kinds of molecules are produced. EXTRACTION: Use the liquid to oxidize hydrogen. Then use the liquid to reduce aluminium. Instructions: - Choose your classroom. - Open the door and join your classmate in the room. - Use the lever to open the door. - There are 3 clues. Use your classmates to Additional notes can be found below the description. Do you like running games? If you do, then you're going to love Faster than Fish, which is a short, frantic runner that has you constantly running through the forest, trying to avoid getting hit by floating obstacles. Once you reach the end of the forest, it's time to swim in the water where you have to dodge incoming waves of spikes. The game starts off with a tutorial so you can get familiarized with the controls, but after that it's you against the clock. The controls are simple and easy to learn. The game does feature various power-ups and items to help you survive. It's a simple game that offers a great challenge. ★☆☆ Available on iPhone, iPad, iPod touch, tvOS and macOS ★☆☆ This app contains: 1. English captions (Japanese voiceover audio included). 2.
