Â .Coachella is just one of a number of music festivals taking place in California this weekend, including the BottleRock Napa Valley, Goldenvoice's Route 91

Harvest Festival in Las Vegas and the Panorama And Gorgeous festival in Redlands. Coachella is one of the largest in the U.S. with an estimated 215,000 attendees, most of whom are under the age of 25, and it is held at the Empire Polo Field in Indio, Calif. The festival will have 175-plus performances during the four-day event, and it is expected to bring in over $170 million in economic impact for the city of Indio, the Indio News reports. And since any music fan knows that more than a few top-earning artists show up every year with an entourage of support players, it's also important to consider these artists' support systems when planning your travel for this weekend. Coachella is one of the largest festivals in the U.S. Watch a video below featuring some of the artists who have created a loyal base of fans and followers through their devoted music. 1. Blink-182 Everything about this band is fun: their haircuts, their music videos, their music. What would Coachella be without Blink-182 at its helm? And the answer is: It would be a lot different. Without the band's name to be associated with it, there's no reason why we would come back here every year. 2. Eminem Eminem has always played music that's considered to be a bit above mainstream. His particular style of rap has made him an international superstar. He created a loyal fan base through his music. And most of his fellow artists would not exist if it weren't for Eminem. 3. Billy Joel It's impossible to tell what a song title like "Down River" means if you haven't heard this song from the 1970s. And Joel, along with his band, is one of the few artists who can still create a powerful rock ballad. He is by no means a one-hit-wonder. 4. Metall
