966983840 .Q: Swift 2.0 - Build and Deploy.APP file to iTunes Connect I've created my first iOS app using Xcode and have created a distribution certificate and have created a.APP file, but when I try to upload it to iTunes Connect I receive an error stating "The provisioning profile you are trying to use

("appstore.provisionprofile") has been already used by another provisioning profile. Xcode cannot replace the old profile with the new one." How do I install this.APP file onto my device? Xcode Version 7.3 iOS device - iPhone 6s (iOS 9.2) A: I had the same issue and found the solution. In my case the error was coming because my app was using a wildcard certificate. To fix this I was just going to change it to a new wildcard certificate and was going to keep my existing app signing identity. But to fix the issue I also had to change my app's certificate to not be wildcarded, as shown below: After these changes I was able to successfully upload to iTunes Connect. A: I encountered the same issue. I found that the source of error was trying to build using a provisioning profile that was not used to run the app on the device. To resolve this you must also select the correct provisioning profile. A: Thank you for your answer j
